

Ravenscote Junior School – PSHE Skills Progression.

Personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education is a non-statutory subject, however it is an important and necessary part of all pupils' education. All schools should teach PSHE, drawing on good practice, however, to allow teachers flexibility to deliver high quality PSHE a specific framework or programme of study is not provided. Teachers are best placed to understand the needs of their pupils and do not need additional central prescription.

However, while we believe that it is for schools to tailor their local PSHE programme to reflect the needs of their pupils, we expect schools to use their PSHE education programme to equip pupils with a sound understanding of risk and with the knowledge and skills necessary to make safe and informed decisions.

Schools should seek to use PSHE education to build, where appropriate, on the statutory content already outlined in the national curriculum, the basic school curriculum and in statutory guidance on: drug education, financial education, sex and relationship education (SRE) and the importance of physical activity and diet for a healthy lifestyle.

At Ravenscote Junior School we follow the Jigsaw scheme of work which brings together PSHE Education, emotional literacy, social skills and spiritual development in a comprehensive scheme of learning.
