I work for the Eikon Charity which provides early intervention support to young people within Surrey, addressing a wide range of personal, family and school issues. Eikon wants to help young people to feel safe, heard and supported.

My role comes under the School Based Needs Service which is part of Mindworks Surrey. As an EIP, I work in primary schools in Surrey Heath, providing information about services on offer to support young people and delivering early intervention work in the form of 1:1 sessions and small targeted groups.
