DIGITAL PARENTING TALK

Tuesday 10th February - 5pm @ Ravenscote Junior School

We are pleased to invite you to a Digital Parenting Talk hosted by Traci Gregory from i-vengers. She is an online safety specialist who works with schools, colleges and the police to raise awareness of online safety.

This session is designed to support you in understanding the online world your children are growing up in and to help you feel confident guiding them to use technology safely, positively, and responsibly.

Technology, apps, games, and social media platforms change rapidly, and children's online experiences today can look very different from even a year ago. For this reason, we strongly encourage all parents to attend, even if you have joined us for a digital parenting session in the past. Each talk is updated to reflect the latest trends, risks, and opportunities, as well as practical advice you can use at home.

We understand that childcare can sometimes make attending events difficult. To support families, we will be offering a supervised film screening for children during the talk, led by school staff, so parents and carers can attend knowing their children are safely looked after.

We hope you will be able to join us for this important and informative session, as working together is key to helping our children navigate the digital world safely and confidently.
